
India - Hong Kong SAR Bilateral Relations

India's relations with Hong Kong are historical and date back to the 1840s when Hong Kong became a British colony after the Treaty of Nanking as the result of the First Opium War. From trading ties established in the middle of the 19th century (1840 onwards), relations today span sectors such as investment finance, services, maritime, shipping, logistics, culture, education and trade.

Political Relations and visits

2. The Commission for India, set up in 1951, was re-designated as Consulate General of India on October 15, 1996, in advance of China's assumption of sovereignty over Hong Kong, which took place on July 1, 1997. The Consulate also has accreditation to Macau, which reverted from Portuguese rule to China on December 19, 1999.

3. The early 2000s witnessed keen interest in Hong Kong in India's economic growth and its status as one of the fastest growing economies in the world. Expectations here are that with deepening of economic reforms in India in the coming years, India-Hong Kong relations should deepen and trade and economic ties should expand.

4. In October 2010, Donald Tsang, the then Chief Executive (CE) of Hong Kong along with the Governor of Guangdong province led a business delegation on a visit to India. During the visit, he met Governor of Maharashtra, MOS for External Affairs & Finance Minister during his visit.

5. In February 2016, at the invitation of Chief Minister of Maharashtra, the then Chief Executive (CE) of Hong Kong CY Leung visited India in order to increase the level of economic engagement between India and Hong Kong and provide boost to the business, investment and people-to-people links. It was the first official visit to India by a Hong Kong CE. He led a 40 strong multi-sectoral business delegation, the largest one accompanying CE amongst his official overseas visits. During his visit, CE called on Hon'ble Prime Minister, Finance Minister and External Affairs Minister. He also addressed the business events organised by Indian and Hong Kong Chambers of Commerce.

6. Hong Kong has always acted as a “Gateway to China” for the companies in rest of the world. With the rapid growth in engagement between the Chinese and Indian economies, Hong Kong presents a great opportunity to act as a “Gateway to India” for the mainland companies and become an important stakeholder and a beneficiary of this huge opportunity.

7. The period between 2015-2018 witnessed a series of High Level visits:
